2. Claims added or re-verified at Capstone stage

Source	Claim used in the Capstone	How it was checked
[43]	World-average out-of-stock rate 8.3%; average sales loss from out-of-stocks 4%	News release read; global and dated (2002), so used only as a placeholder until Magnum’s baseline is measured
[44]	Average monthly nominal wage Q2 2026: 486,388 ₸ (all), 451,524 ₸ (trade), 851,076 ₸ (ICT)	Official release of 2 September 2026 read; period and sectors matched to each cost line
[45]	ChatGPT Business standard seat: $20 a user a month billed annually; minimum two users	Vendor pricing page read on 25 October 2026; cross-checked with a July 2026 secondary summary
[46]	Official National Bank rate on 20 October 2026: 452.59 ₸ per US dollar	Rate as published for that date
[2]	Carrefour gross margin 19.1% of net sales in H1 2026 (used as a proxy for Magnum)	Press release read; Magnum’s margin is not public, so the business case shows the sensitivity
[36]	230+ branches in 14 cities; Magnum Start for students and graduates	Company claim; consistent with “more than 200 stores” [3]

3. Claims added after the Capstone (Week 8 and Week 9 artifacts)

Source	Claim	How it was checked
[47]	Magnum balance sheet at 30 Jun 2016 and income statement for FY2015 and H1 2016 (unaudited): total assets 54,172,443, liabilities 38,811,242, equity 15,361,201, current assets 16,517,000, current liabilities 14,611,023, H1 2016 loss 634,786 thousand ₸	Every subtotal re-added from its lines and assets = liabilities + equity; the 368.3 m ₸ loss in the report’s text matches no statement line and is reported as an inconsistency (Week 8 Artifact)
[47]	FY2015 revenue 92,904,983 and total comprehensive income 11,386,323 thousand ₸; net loss 1,894,806	Matched to the 2016 Forbes ranking (92.9 bn ₸ revenue, 11.4 bn ₸ “profit”), which shows that figure is comprehensive income, not net profit (Week 8 Artifact)
[48]	Carrefour FY2025: current assets €22,769m, current liabilities €26,090m, net income Group share €319m, net sales €82,102m	Read in the results release, pp. 18–19, which states the accounts were audited (p. 10); used as the food-retail comparator
[49]	Magnum’s bonds were removed from the KASE official list in October 2016 at the issuer’s request	Explains why no Magnum statements are published after 2016

Earlier claim checks are recorded in field 3 of each Weekly Record and in the A3 and A4 evidence files.
